A note from The Journal of Integrated Studies (JIS):

The Journal of Integrated Studies (JIS) is produced by MAIS and MScIS student volunteers and coordinated by faculty member Dr. Reinekke Lengelle. This online journal includes peer-reviewed articles, poetry, narratives and cover art by graduate students (and from the AU art collection). Any graduate student nationally or internationally may submit work.

Each issue now also features an editorial by an AU faculty member. These guest editorials tell inspiring and humorous stories about the joys and pains of writing for academia.

The journal gives graduate students a chance to learn both sides of the peer-reviewed academic publishing process.

Winning poems from the recent poetry contest will appear in the next issue of JIS along with AU artwork.

The most recent issue has just come out, enjoy.
